Penn State Homecoming Announces 2022 Theme

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (February 19, 2022) – The Homecoming Executive Committee revealed the theme for Homecoming 2022 to be “One Community, Forever A Home” during the Penn State IFC/Panhellenic Dance MaraTHON. The 2022 Theme was revealed at 11:00 a.m. on the event stage. The Homecoming Executive Director, Tim Nevil, introduced the Homecoming 2022 Executive Committee preceding the Theme reveal. Together, the Homecoming Executive Committee developed the following statement regarding this year’s theme:

*We are a community united in resilience, tradition, change, and diversity. We come from countless backgrounds and different lives. We are students, alumni, faculty, staff, and State College residents. We are every beautiful shade of life, and we are all different. We each have unseen struggles. Struggles of finding our way, of creating sense of balance, and struggles to be seen and heard equally. We come from every corner of the globe, speak hundreds of languages, and at the end of the day, this is who we are... We Are... Penn State. We are one community, built of, and by thousands of unique individuals, that strive to promote a welcoming and safe place for all. Our community welcomes all with open and warm arms and fosters a Home to everyone. Like many homes we are not perfect, we have our faults but together we will do better, together state will prevail. Together, we will create a place for all to call home. A home you can call yours... forever.
One Community, Forever A Home.*

This year celebrates the 103rd Anniversary of Penn State Homecoming. The Executive Committee created and selected the theme that best exemplifies Penn State Homecoming 2022 and the values they uphold. As an Executive Committee, they are excited to envision the future of Penn State and Homecoming.
